

WORKSHOP ON CONNECTING & COMMUNICATING WITH PARENTS Conducted by MS. Ira Sehgal

Parents and children are a two-for-one deal: Developing positive relationships with parents is critical to providing the best care possible to their children. Keeping this in mind JMIS organized a workshop on Connecting and Communicating with parents by Ms. Ira Sehgal on May 27, 2019 wherein she discussed various concerns of parents about their wards followed by solutions to those concerns.

Few case studies were discussed to make the teachers understand the problems from the parent's point of view. Teachers were asked to counsel parents time to time regarding the homework given, seating plan at school etc.

The causes for parents complaints were also discussed like:

- Lack of trust in teachers
- Lack of faith in school
- Negative attitude towards their concerns.

Teachers were briefed about the need for teacher/parent association as together they can provide a vital support system for the students to do well. Another and most important point discussed was:

- Positive dealing with parent with an ear ready to listen to their concerns.
- Asking for parents suggestions
- pleasant tone while communicating
- Making positive suggestions to their problems.
- Transparency in school activities
- Open house discussions.
- Action plan to be discussed for better results.

The workshop concluded with a important message:

Parents + Teachers = An Educated Child
